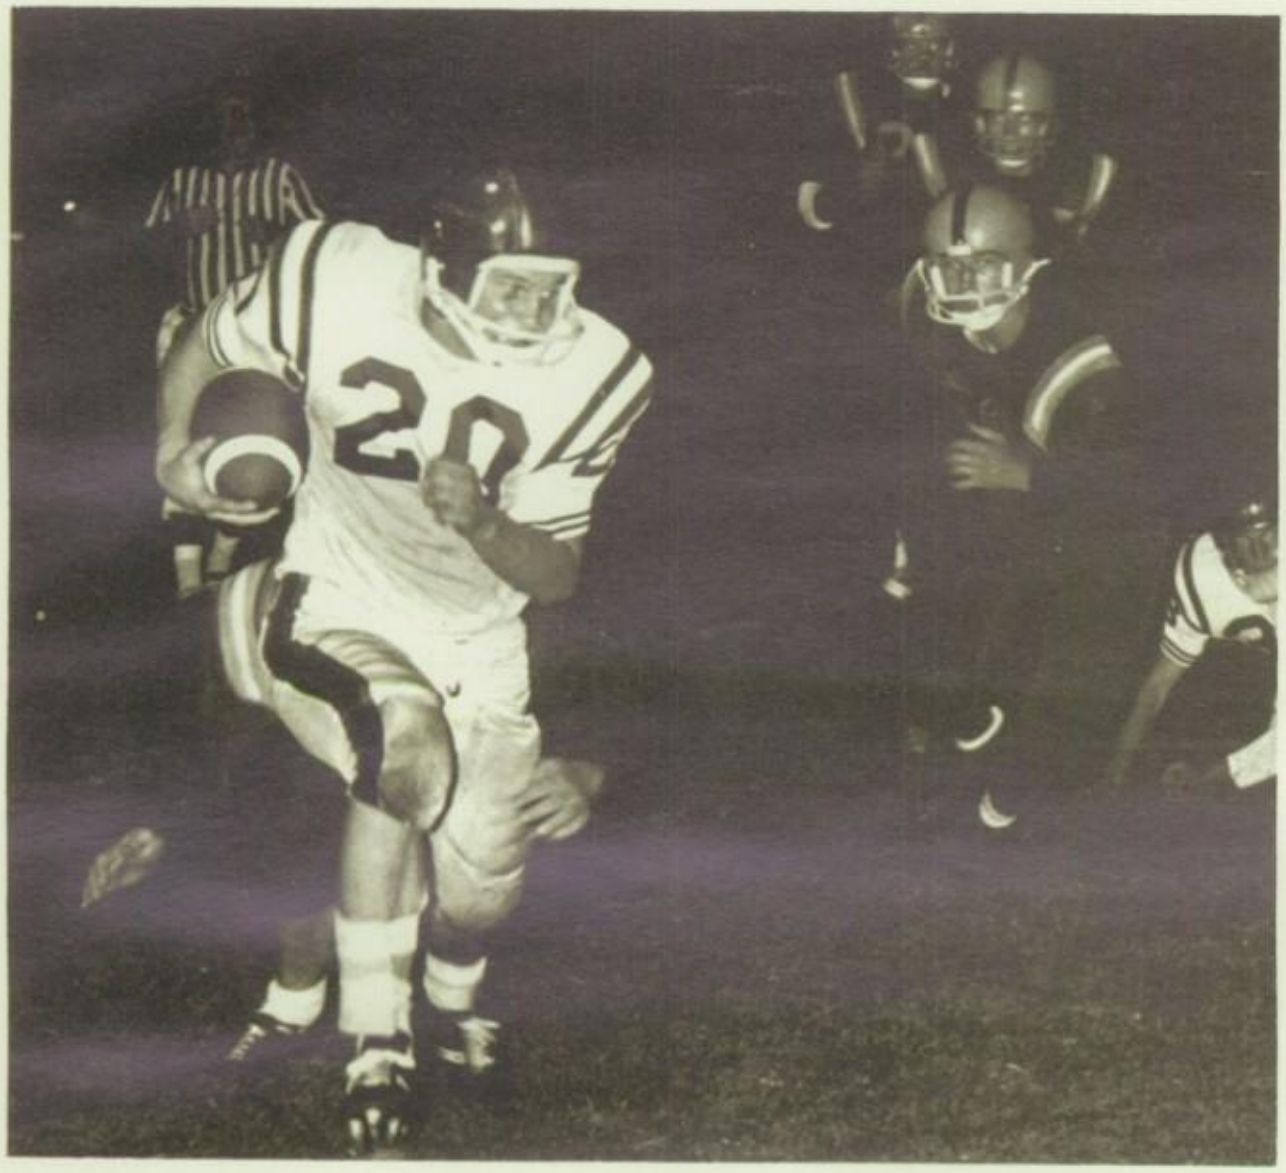
DIRECTION—A line of action. . . toward a goal.

Mr. Moulin interprets test scores to new student, Jeff Paolano.



Paul Ritzman scores for Norton.

A goal, a path, a line of march, and action . . . these are the elements of direction. And direction is a part of Norton, the factor beneath the movement, the change, the currents of school life. The directions of people and things are lines of action that draw a truer picture of Norton than any artist or photographer could achieve. Some of these lines are parallel – the paths of freshmen headed for their last days of high school. Others reach in diverging directions – those of the track star and the pianist, striving for different goals. The line of direction may be thrillingly visible, like a touchdown at a crucial moment – it may exist only in the mind, as in a teacher's idea for a lesson plan. A chalk line answering a math problem, even a beeline for the cafeteria – all are directions. And at Norton, there are as many different directions as people.

Never is the line of march more obvious than in the crowded halls between classes.

PERFECTION

The constant striving toward higher standards of excellence.

The upward struggle to reach the summit, the height,

the pinnacle,

The ripening,

The maturing,

The development of a well-

rounded individual –

This is the goal and the continuing direction of the Norton student.

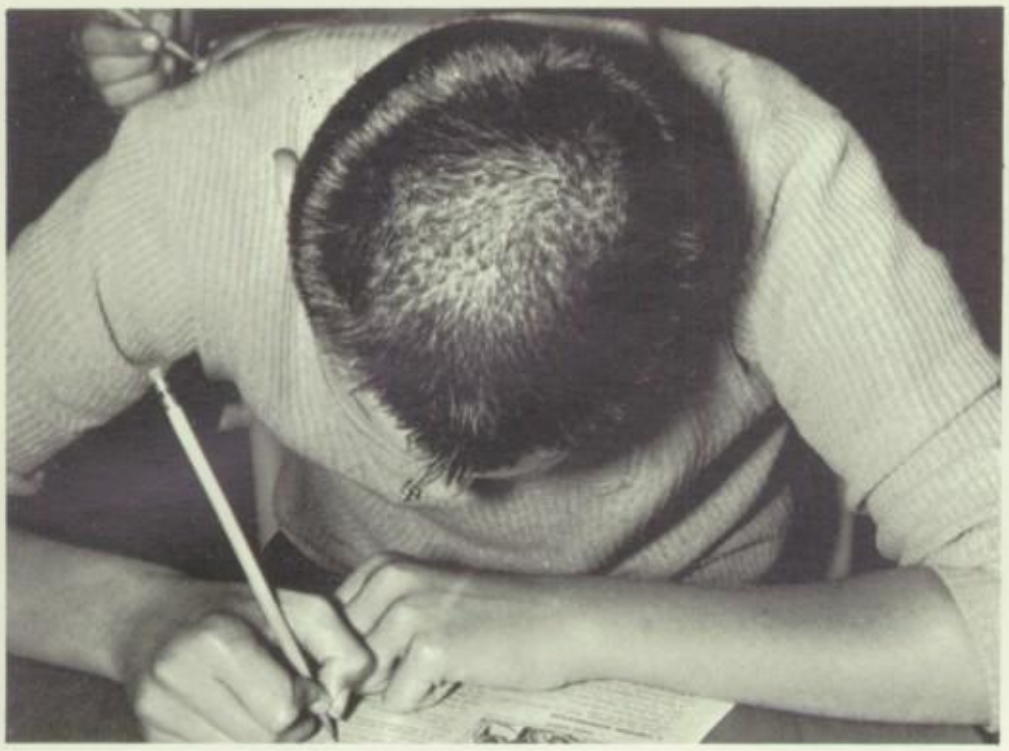
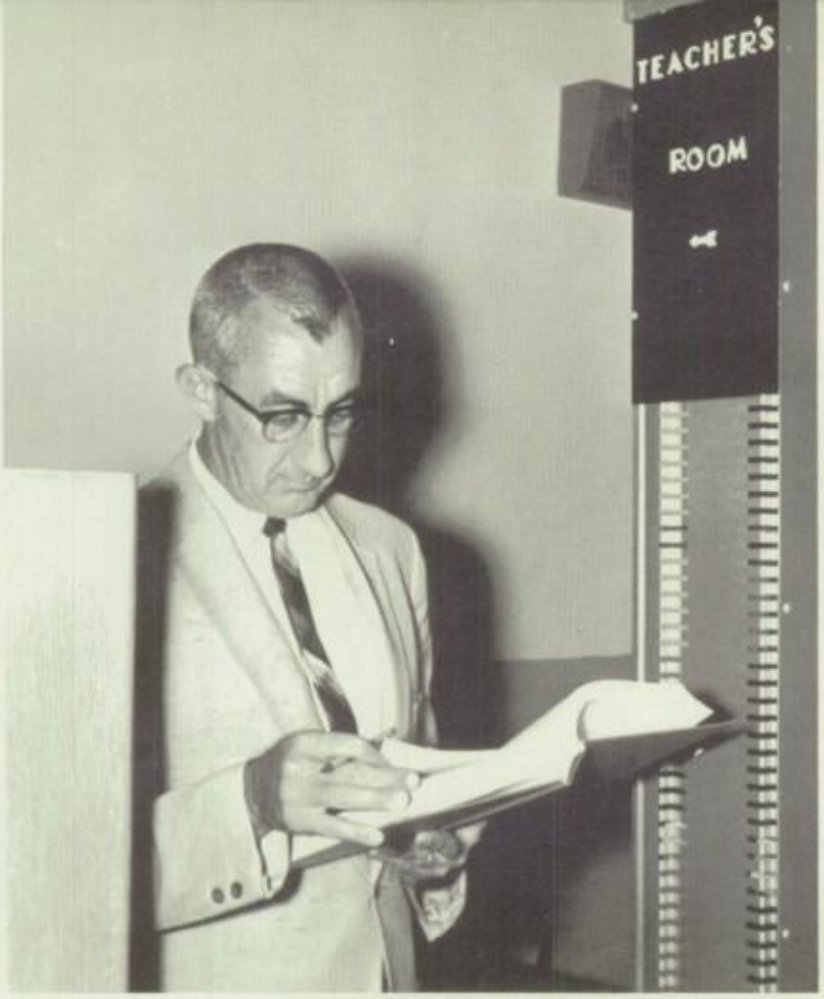
The National Honor Society promotes high standards of character, service, leadership, and scholarship.

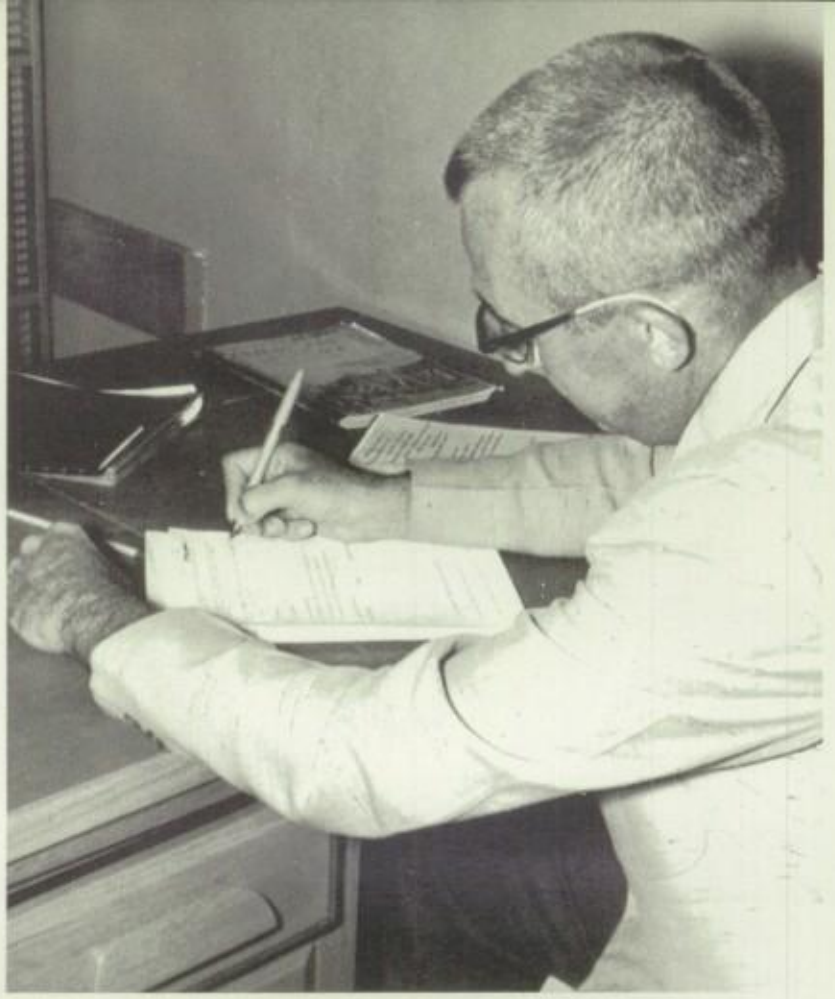


Perfection in scholarship stems from daily accomplishments.

Perfection in music requires years of careful practice. Here Laura Perkins concentrates on a difficult piece.



Through exhausting research . . .



and careful planning . . .

TEACHING

The outward flow of ideas through the school's facilities,

The giving of one's self for the enlightenment of others,

The painstaking explanation,

The careful guidance,

The instruction,

The discipline,

The drill,

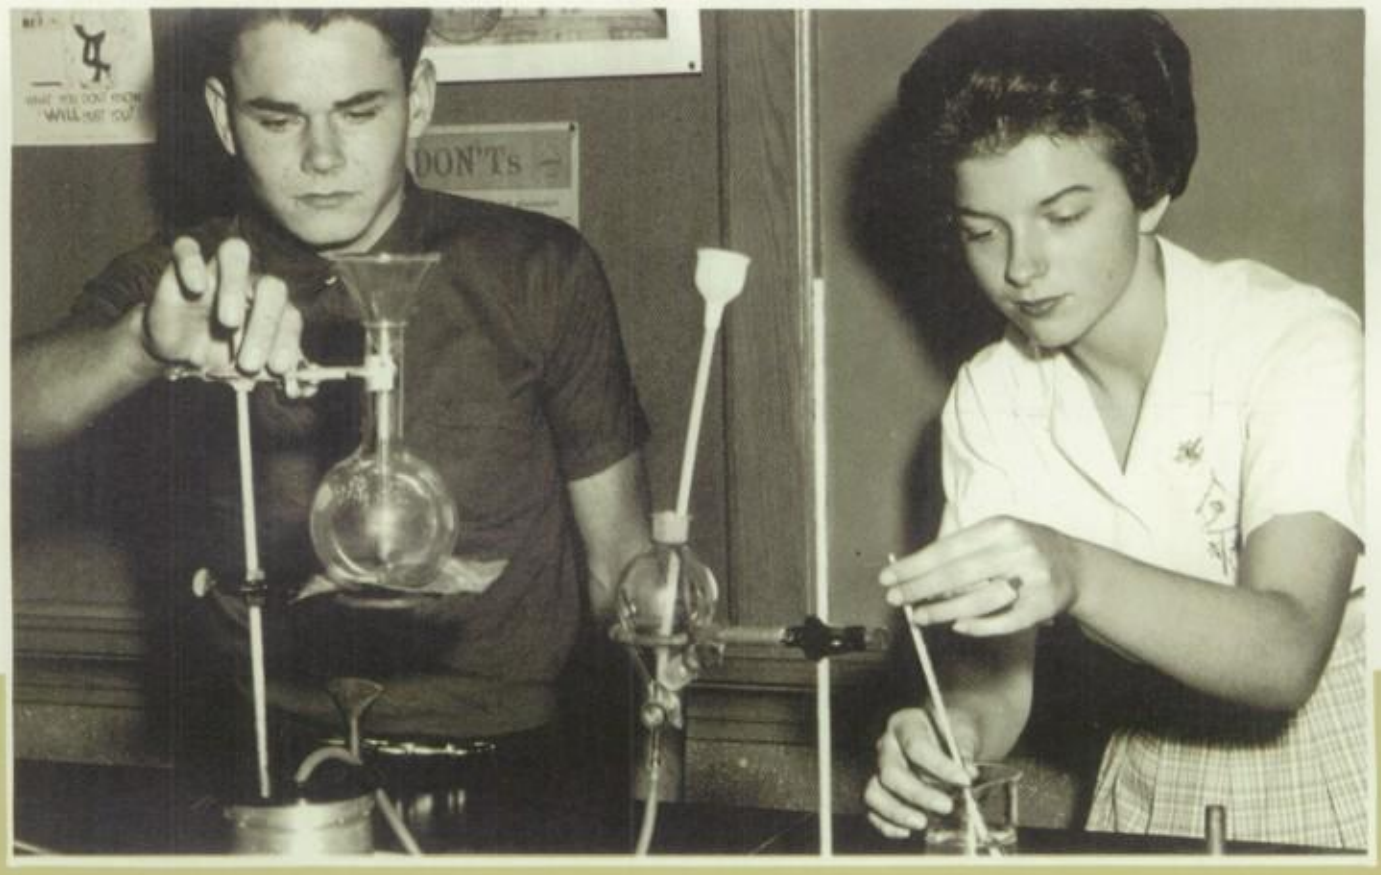
Norton's outward direction.

Mr. Campbell displays superior teaching every day.

The Language Lab enables the teacher to provide to each student the individual attention necessary for comprehension and fluency in a language.

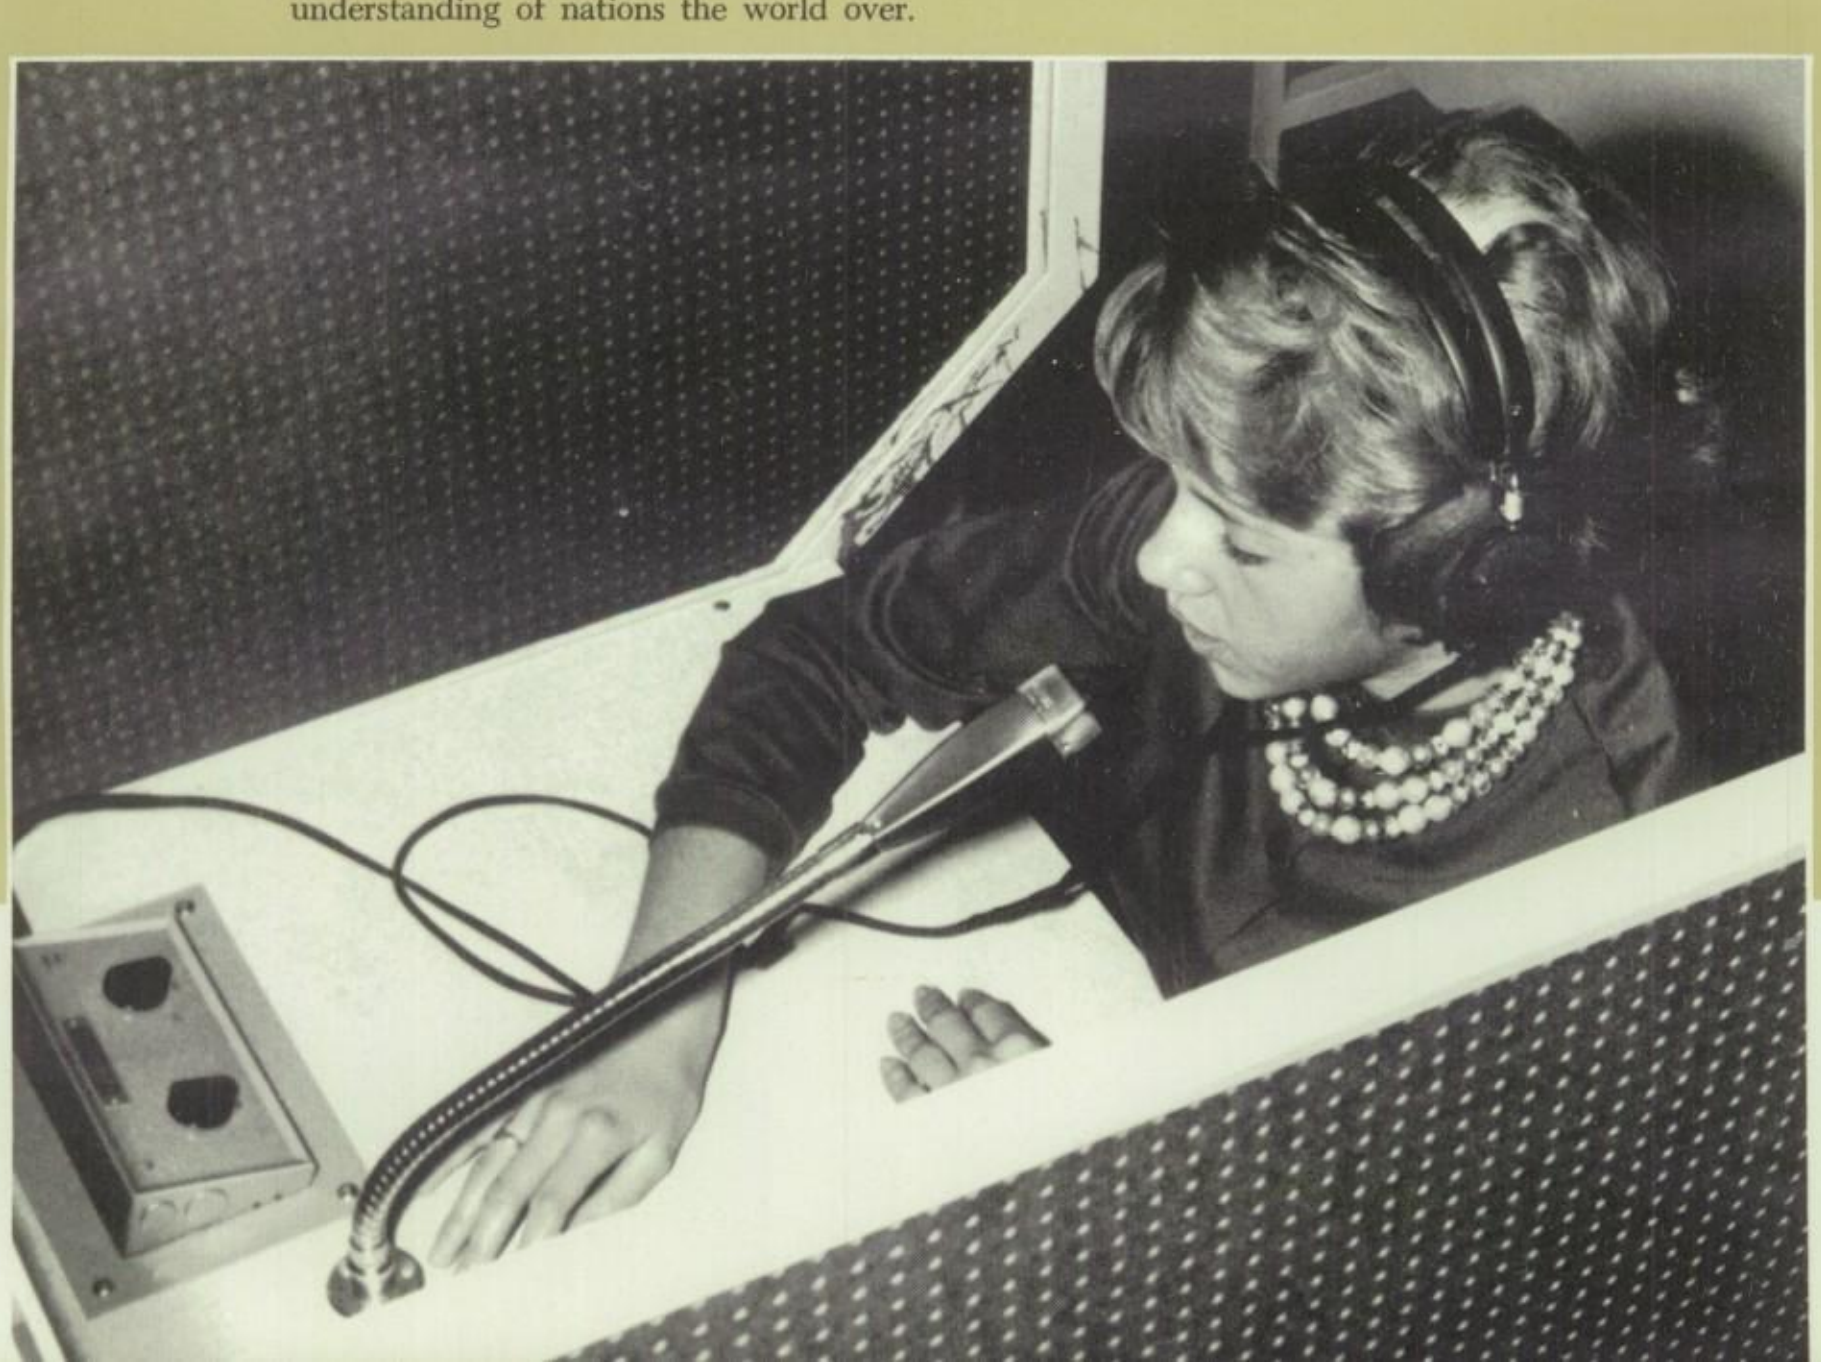
Visual Aids is an important factor in presenting material to students.

THE DISCOVERY OF IDEAS



Critical evaluation and comparison of existing principles are employed by the exceptional Norton student.

Mastery of the essentials of the languages leads to better communications and understanding of nations the world over.



The purpose of study is not merely to learn facts but to use the capacity to think and judge, to form opinions after careful study, and yet remain receptive to the ideas and opinions of others.

The probing for facts on the part of the students,

The quest for truth,

The search for new concepts,

new theories,

The ability to evaluate,

Understand,

And decide for one's self.

Effort directed inward at Norton.

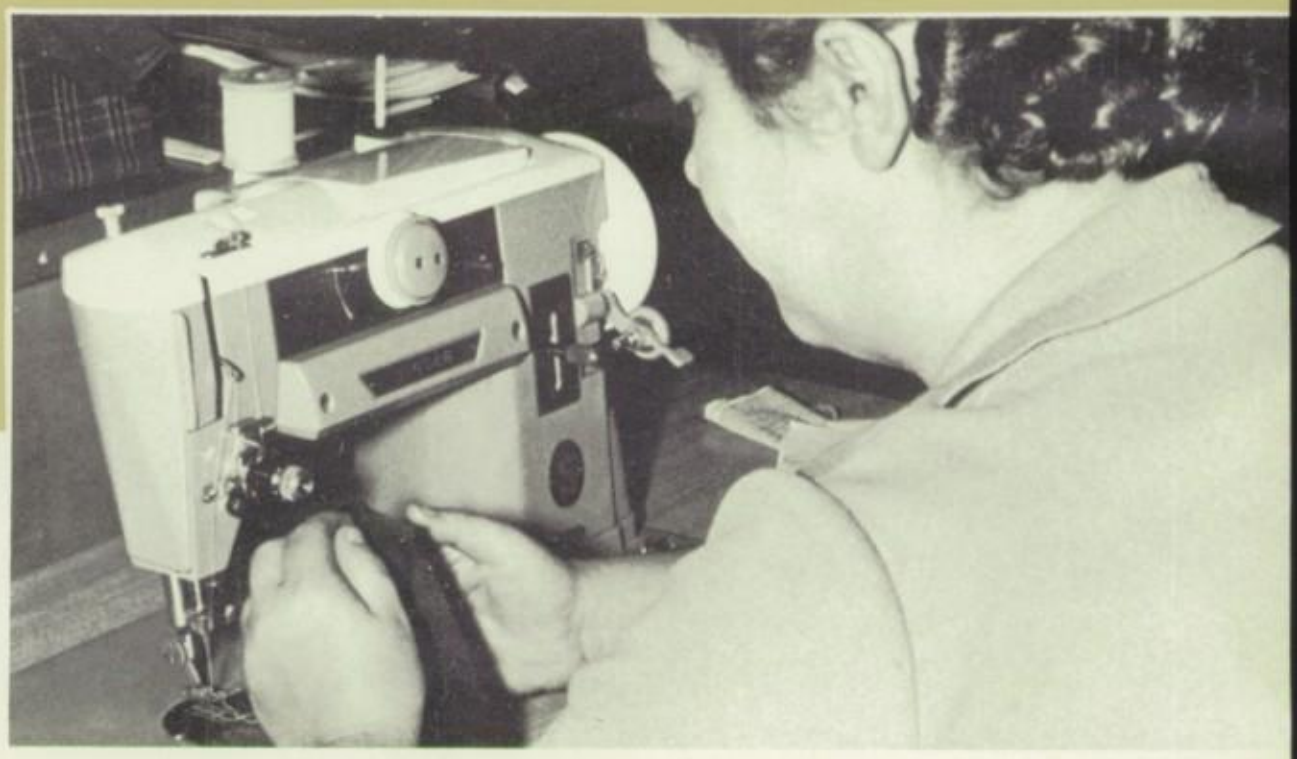
A knowledge and an application of basic fundamentals are necessary before a student can develop new ideas.



TRADITION

The backward glance,

The reassurance of established customs,

The continuance of the worthwhile,

The guide for the future in the past.

This is Norton's heritage.

NORTONIAN

In Physical Education classes
all four grades learn to cooperate.

PEOPLE

In the halls and classrooms,
On the dance floor,
In assemblies,
At the game.
Paths that constantly touch,
Mingle,
Go separate ways —
Touch again.
Circular,
encompassing paths
of people at Norton.

Tensions run high as football players discuss the coming game.

Jim Danner, President of the Student Council, represents the entire student body of Norton.

The lives of students are shaped and influenced by many different people. Here Gov. DiSalle waits to address an assembly.

Enthusiasm at a Pep assembly . . . .

versus concentration in study.

Mood . . . the bleak gloom of Norton High School on a rainy morning.

MOOD

The exhilaration of a winning touchdown . . .

The dejection at losing a hard-fought game . . .

Despair over failing a test . . .

And a feeling of accomplishment

over a well-written theme . . .

The variations of mood,

Extremes,

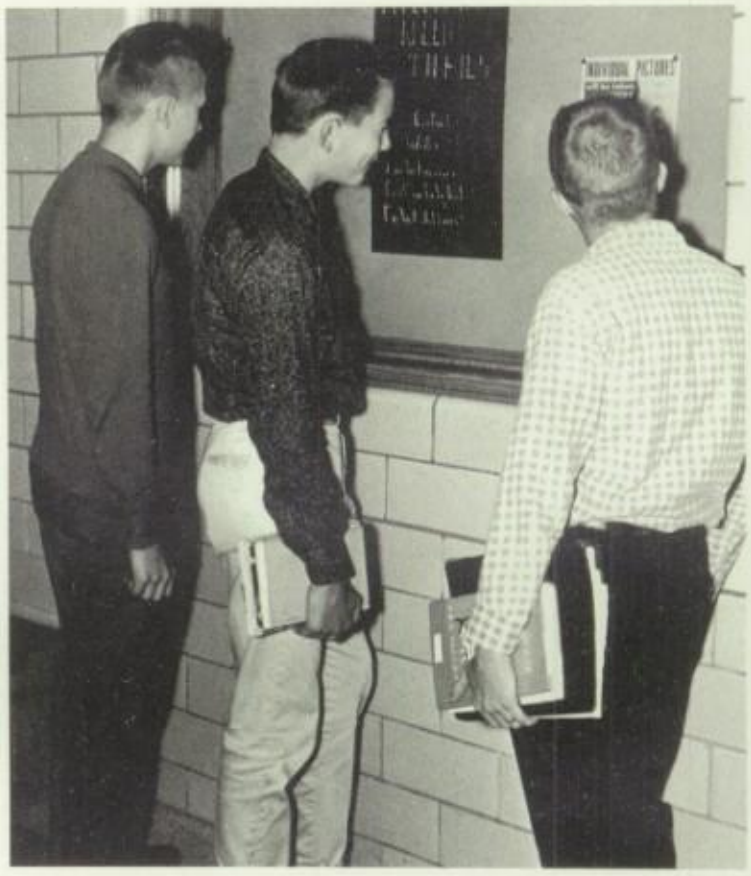
Highs and lows,

Ups and downs,

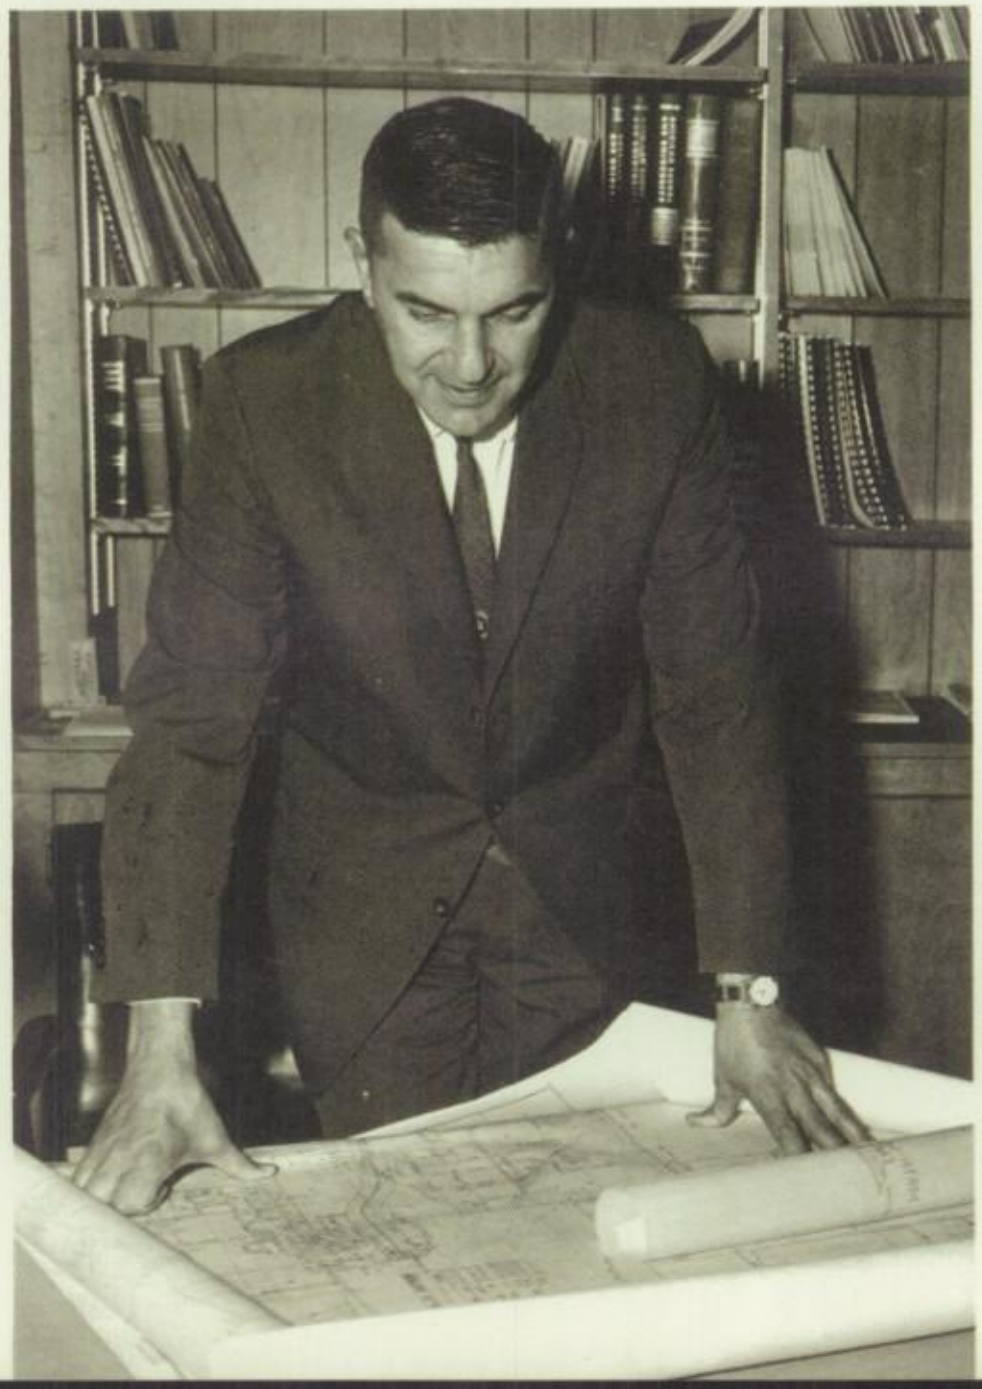
Directions of spirit.

Mood . . . the excitement and whirl of a formal dance.

The future is often but a repetition of the past. The school must be prepared for the rush of students that will once again crowd its halls.



Freshmen view with interest and also apprehension the coming events.



The future means expansion. Mr. Schlott studies plans that may be the Norton High School of tomorrow.

THE FUTURE

"Walking with a stride of honor

To the road ahead . . . "

Seniors

Walking toward their chosen goal ahead.

They portray in visible terms,

The stride of honor at commencement.

And yet there is a road ahead

for every other Norton student . . .

A continuing future for the school itself . . .

As Norton moves,

Onward,

"Till we reach our goal."

ADMINISTRATION

Gordon Swain, Clerk

The Norton School District is privileged to have Board of Education members who possess special qualities. They are sensible, fair, tolerant, cooperative and civic-minded. They represent all the people of our community, not any one interest or group. They have a sincere desire to minister to the educational needs of all the students in their district. Added to all these qualities is an ability to direct the business affairs of the school.

Mirian Smith, Secretary

Mr. Ralph C. Schlott, Superintendent

The superintendent is regarded not only as the agent of the board but as the representative of the teaching staff. Together he and the principal keep the machinery of administration running smoothly. They encourage teachers to exercise leadership in accordance with their interests and abilities. Superintendent and principal plan together, share their experiences, and jointly evaluate their achievements. Thus they cooperate in operating the school.

Mr. Donald Swartz, Principal

Zeta Schrock, Secretary

A teacher is a prophet;
He lays the foundations of tomorrow.
A teacher is an artist;
He works with the precious clay of unfolding personality.
A teacher is a friend;
His heart responds to the faith and devotion of his students.
A teacher is a citizen;
He is selected and licensed for the improvement of society.
A teacher is an interpreter;
Out of his maturer and wider life he seeks to guide the young.
A teacher is a builder;
He works with the higher and finer values of civilization.
A teacher is a culture-bearer;
He leads the way toward worthier tastes, saner attitudes, more gracious manners, higher intelligence.
A teacher is a planner;
He sees the young lives before him as a part of a great system which shall grow stronger in the light of truth.
A teacher is a pioneer;
He is always attempting the impossible and winning out.
A teacher is a reformer;
He seeks to remove the handicaps that weaken and destroy life.
A teacher is a believer;
He has abiding faith in the improvability of the race.

VARSITY FOOTBALL COACHES

Mr. Campbell, Mr. Beddow, Mr. Prasher, Mr. Dipple, Mr. Volk

Norton High is fortunate in having one of the finest coaching staffs in the area. This year we have added two new coaches to our staff, Mr. Beddow and Mr. Campbell. Their records speak well of their abilities as coaches.

The job of a coach is one of variety, not only are they to develop winning teams but also to develop their boys into fine men, both physically and mentally. We are grateful to our head coach, Tony Prasher, a former Coach of the Year, and his assistants for the fine job which they have done. The graduating class of 1963 wishes them the best of luck in the coming year.

COACH CAMPBELL

A new face appeared at Norton this year; he is Jim Campbell, our new varsity basketball coach. Mr. Campbell's coaching experience is spread over a period of seventeen years. In each of these years, his team copped their district championship. During the 1957-1958 season, Mr. Campbell had the distinction of being chosen the coach of the South All-Star team. We wish Mr. Campbell the best of luck and hope that his stay at Norton will be filled with happiness and many victories.

NORTONIAN STAFF

The*Nortonian Staff* is selected from the Senior class, with some Junior class members as observers. These Junior members are apprentices, and assume the positions of responsibility on the staff in their Senior year.

The staff is divided into two departments, editorial and business. The editorial department gathers material and designs the book, while the business department raises the money to pay the cost of publishing. They act as a unit on most important matters. The objectives of the entire staff is to present to the student body a complete, factual and enjoyable record of the activities of the previous school year. This is accomplished under the direction of Mr. Morgan, the faculty advisor.

Through participation on the Torch staff, students are able to show and develop their abilities in writing and artwork. They also encourage students throughout the school to make use of their writing potential by conducting an annual literature contest. The contest has two main divisions: one pertaining to short stories and the other to poetry.

The officers of the girls' chorus are: President — Olive Hayden, Vice-President — Linda J. Wright, Secretary-Treasurer — Carolyn Godbey.

Under the direction of Mr. Yockey, our musicians participate in many of our assembly programs. Each year they sing at the community Thanksgiving service. In addition, they present programs for Service Clubs, church organizations and various adult groups in our community and Summit County. All choral organizations unite to present a vocal concert in April of each school year.

GIRLS' CHORUS

Accompanists Olive Hayden and Rodney Livingston discuss musical arrangements with choral director Mr. Yockey.

BAND

There is a two-fold purpose in having a band. To the participants in the band, the band's purpose is to give an instrumental music education; experience in music through the band training program; as well as experience in performance such as concerts, marching shows, and the solo and ensemble contests.

The second purpose in having a band is to provide music at the football games, along with the seasonal concerts. This helps improve the cultural thinking within the community and the school.

Each year our band has gained more recognition throughout the county. This year we were asked to participate in the Acme Zip game's review of bands. There were many more honors bestowed upon the band. Through these honors, higher and more difficult goals were placed before it.

Members of the Junior or Senior class are eligible for election in May, and are chosen on the basis of their leadership, scholarship, service, and character. Mr. Capan is the faculty advisor.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Our Student Council is one of the most important organizations in the school. Consisting of two boys and two girls from each of the four classes, it is the council's job to represent each class in school matters, manage various extra curricular activities, and set an example for the other members of the student body.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Zimmerman, the Student Council sponsors our school's annual magazine drive. The money which is made in the drive goes to assist various clubs throughout the school, and also, in times past, has furnished our library with new books. As the governing body in the school, the Student Council also plans our assemblies. It is an honor to be elected to the Student Council, but along with the prestige there is a great deal of work and responsibility.

This year students' research papers, attractively bound, have been added to the library collection as reference materials.

CHESS CLUB

The Norton Chapter of Future Teachers of America, a major organization since 1955 under the faithful direction of Miss Sherman, is designed to acquaint its members with the many aspects and opportunities of the broad and expanding field of teaching. It seeks not only to influence each member to cultivate in himself the personal attributes of a successful teacher but also to acquaint the member with methods, techniques, and problems through actual teaching experience during the Junior and Senior years. This aids in a decision to choose to be or not to be a teacher. The club is open to any boy or girl in the ninth through the twelfth grades. Each year a fifty dollar scholarship, as well as an "outstanding senior class personality" award is awarded by the F.T.A.

Tri-Hi-Y is a Christian organization for Junior and Senior girls. It is both a social and a service club. Each member is assigned to a committee and this committee must complete two or more service projects during the year. These projects range from visiting older people at local rest homes to providing CARE packages to the needy people overseas. The club sponsors the formal dance in January and sells candy to help support the Y.M.C.A.'s World Service Fund. In the past our Tri-Hi-Y has made the largest contribution to this fund in the Ohio-West Virginia area. These are just a few of the Tri-Hi-Y's accomplishments which have been inspired by our creed, to "Create, maintain, and extend, throughout the home, school, and community, high standards of Christian conduct."

FORENSIC LEAGUE DEBATE TEAM UNDEFEATED IN '63

Under the imaginative direction of Mrs. Thorsten, the Norton Forensic League, more commonly referred to as the Debate Team, has become one of the school's most influential organizations. Undefeated as of December 1962, the League has members from the Sophomore, Junior, and Senior classes. There are both speaking members, who do the actual debating, and members of the Secretariat, who help with the huge volume of research paper work. The Debate Team is the school's only organization with its own fight song, and this year saw the adoption of an official crest.

VARSITY CHEERLEADERS

Row 2: Richard Baker, Julie Sudomir, Rene Bale, Jean Puster, Jeanette Eskridge, Richard Fenstermaker.

Under the supervision of Mrs. Martin, the Varsity Cheerleaders are selected from the Junior and Senior classes. They are chosen on the basis of poise, coordination, personality, and intelligence. In order to become and remain a Varsity Cheerleader, every girl must maintain at least a C average.

These Varsity Cheerleaders are composed of a group of six regular cheerleaders and one alternate. It is the job of the alternate to learn all the cheers with the regulars, so that she can fill in for a regular, if necessary.

Cheering at football games, Varsity basketball games, and leading the cheers in the pep assemblies are only a few of the cheerleaders' duties. Much time and effort also go into their practices, and every three years the girls sell programs in order to raise money for new uniforms.

In order to correlate their cheers, the Varsity and Reserve Cheerleaders hold joint practice sessions. We are proud of the record of enthusiasm and leadership which they have set at Norton.

RESERVE CHEERLEADERS

Row 1: Judy Carlisle, Nancy Bulgrin, Shirley Jones.
Row 2: Sandra Burandt, Connie Snyder, Joyce Ressegger, Marlene Hahn.

The Reserve Cheerleaders' duties are comparable to those of the Varsity Cheerleaders, except that they usually do not cheer at football games. Their cheering squad is also composed of six regular cheerleaders and one reserve cheerleader. They are chosen in the same manner as the Varsity Cheerleaders. All these girls are chosen from the Sophomore class and many of them go on to become Varsity cheerleaders in their Junior and Senior years.

Education continues in industry. Experienced personnel help train new employees in one of Babcock & Wilcox's computer installations where problems in designing, manufacturing, testing and selling products for the conversion and control of energy are studied.

WHEN SHOULD YOUR EDUCATION STOP?

The better jobs go to the better educated today. The man or woman with little formal education usually has trouble getting a good job and is first to lose it when business slackens. Even the high school graduate will find many doors closed to him if he doesn't continue his education.

College graduates, on the other hand, usually can find almost unlimited career opportunities in companies like The Babcock & Wilcox Company. Engineers, scientists, accountants, personnel and marketing specialists, and sales engineers are among those who have found their greatest rewards and satisfaction in industry. Such well-trained men have made Babcock& Wilcox a major producer of capital goods, including steam generating equipment, nuclear systems and components, boiler cleaning systems, meters and controls, electronic equipment, steel tubular products and refractories.

But what of the man or woman who must go to work before completing his studies? Babcock & Wilcox helps its employees to continue their education. This is true whether the worker has a high school diploma, or is a college graduate. There are two ways in which B&W does this. Throughout the Company's 23 plants and facilities, experienced personnel help new employees by on-the-job training as well as by lectures, meetings, and the like.

Equally as important, Babcock & Wilcox has a plan that refunds full tuition upon successful completion of approved educational courses which will benefit both the individual and the Company. This plan naturally helps employees do better work in their present positions and also aids them to earn promotions.

When should your education stop? Not until you have advanced as far as you can. The Babcock & Wilcox Company encourages you to complete a college education before you seek full-time employment. If college is out of the question for you now, continue your education after you go to work. It will always pay off for you in greater opportunities for more stimulating work and for a higher standard of living.
